RS48 | Moneygall...

On 23 May 2011, hundreds of people lined the streets of the small Irish village of Moneygall to welcome the 44th President of the United States Of America, Barack Obama and his wife, Michelle. The President took the time to see the village and house where his ancestors lived before emigrating to the United States in the 1850s. In the preparations leading up to this unique visit, RS48 sockets were used for the temporary installation of Ø48mm flag poles that lined the main street and proudly flew the Irish and American flags.
